

Posted August 17, 2015

Legal People

McKeen & Associates (www.mckeenassociates.com) of Detroit is expanding its offices in the historic Penobscot Building.

The additional 3,291 square feet on the 43rd floor will increase McKeen's footprint in the building to a total of more than 14,000 square feet.

McKeen already occupies the entire 42nd floor and more than 3,000 square feet on the 41st.

Brian McKeen, managing partner of the firm, said the expansion is a result of the team's hard work and success in achieving great results for victims of medical malpractice and personal injury.

"More and more attorneys refer clients to us and more clients come directly to us," said McKeen. "We've added some really great experienced staff members and we simply needed more room for them."

McKeen & Associates has been in Detroit since McKeen started his law career and founded the firm in 1998.

The firm has been in the Penobscot Building for the past 14 years.

“We are glad we that we stayed true to our commitment to the city and it’s gratifying to see the city on the upswing,” said McKeen. “I look forward to many more years practicing downtown and servicing the people of the city of Detroit.”